

Oxhill's Beer and Cider Festival

The sun shone and the Stratford Girls Jazz Band kept everyone in a party mood for the Peacock at Oxhill's Beer and Cider Festival. The three-day festival gave visitors the chance to sample several real ales and ciders as well as some locally brewed lagers. The Festival also included live performances from Oli Darling and the Dirty Robbers and Cats Whiskas as well as a fancy dress day and an 'open mike' evening. Peacock owners Pam Farrell and Yvonne Hamlett said they were delighted with the support the Festival received and planned to hold another over the August Bank Holiday. www.thepeacockoxhill.co.uk
